11. Entity Control Board (ECB)

11.1. Role

- 11.1.1. The ECB is the final decision-making body regarding exchange quality.
The ECB has decision-making power on exchange standards except when the decision could have entity membership related consequences. In such cases, ECB shall consult the Member Committee and/or the Membership subcommittee and provide a joint recommendation in order to take the final decision.
In cases of APIP or/and AEPP violations, only an intern or an AIESEC member entity may bring a case to the ECB.
A member and the entity's official Member Committee can bring cases on behalf of itself, its entity's incoming or outgoing interns, partners, or Entitys.
An intern can only bring a case on behalf of him/herself.
- 11.1.2. The ECB provides consultancy on its applicable documents' interpretation and its implementation as well as randomly audit entities with the policies/principles implementation within the national network. For the audit purpose, ECB has power to freely access each entity's information concerning the policies and principles implementations.

11.2. Additional Duties of the Entity Control Board:

- 11.2.1. Conduct monthly and quarterly audits on the legal status on legal archives (or similar) and submit a report to the focus at every legislative conference.
- 11.2.2. Provide reports to the Focus regarding the ECB activities and progress of the projects undertaken by ECB at JNC and NLS.
- 11.2.3. Review and provide recommendations to the ICB on APIP.
- 11.2.4. Offering consultancy upon request on the interpretation of AIESEC Portfolio Internal Policies (APIP) and AIESEC Exchange Program Policies (AEPP) to all Entities and stakeholders'.
- 11.2.5. Represent the board in national legislation meetings by reporting the progress of the board and contributing to discussions related to the purpose of ECB.
- 11.2.6. Sign the ECB Establishment Letter and send it to the ICB Chair and MCP, before every ILM, respecting the timeline settled by the Global Membership Subcommittee Chair.
- 11.2.7. Represent the ECB in harassment committees during cases involving exchange participants.
- 11.2.8. Complete ICB Survey quarterly, to be downscaled by ICB.

- 11.2.9. Respond to the demands of ICB when the respective Entity is selected for Auditing, by submitting documents that conform to the instructions of ICB.
- 11.2.10. Provide quarterly reports to ICB including but not limited to: consultancies offered, cases solved, audits conducted and its results.

11.3. Structure

- 11.3.1. The ECB shall consist of a chair and minimum 3 members. The profile of the chair will include Vice Presidents, Entity Heads, Team Leaders and AIESEC Alumni NOT more than a year at the time of their application from their date of leaving the organization. The number of team members and structure inside the ECB team are defined by AIESEC India Member Committee as well as incoming ECB chair for each upcoming term.

11.4. Selection

11.4.1. Chair

Applications for the chair shall be opened by AIESEC in India Member Committee every year. The selection process shall be done by the Member Committee responsible for ECB and the current ECB Chair. The selected Chair will be ratified at the upcoming Legislations after the appointment. The selected Chair cannot have a dual role within AIESEC during the entire period of his/her official ECB term. The selected ECB Chair shall open the applications for ECB Members.

11.4.2. Responsibility of the Members:

The ECB Chair responsibilities are:

- Dedicate at least 20 hours/week for the board activities.

- Coordinate the members of the ECB. Report the ECB activities to the National Plenary.

- Report to the ICB along with the Member Committee whenever it's necessary.

- In case an ECB Chair fails to perform their duties, MC India can decide on a way forward for either suspension for a period of time or termination of the ECB Chair.

The ECB Team Leaders responsibilities are:

- Dedicate at least 15 hours/week for the board activities.

- Distribute the consultancies/cases and ensure the documentation of AIESEC in India exchanges are in place.

- Report the team activities to the ECB Chair.

The ECB Team Members responsibilities are:

- Dedicate at least 10 hours/week for the board activities.
